

Tax Tip
Week of February 16, 2009

Income Splitting Opportunity

If a family qualifies for the Universal Child Care Benefit or the Canada Child Benefit, these amounts should be deposited into a separate account on behalf of the child. Any investment income generated within this account would be income of the child rather than the parent. This provides a modest income splitting opportunity for the parents.